

Stone Pigman Litigators Carrying On Through Virtual Litigation

03.24.2020

In this time of uncertainty caused by COVID-19, Stone Pigman remains dedicated to protecting our employees while continuing to provide client service. Instead of cancelling a hearing last week, energy lawyers Michael Fontham, Dana Shelton and Justin Swaim participated in an oral argument via WebEx teleconferencing. Stone Pigman has additional cases in the near future where the proceedings are scheduled to occur virtually, including one involving the collapse of the Hard Rock Hotel. We are doing our part to both #FlattenTheCurve and continue to serve our clients.
